EVEN LADDIE GETS INTO THE ACT

Snow-shovelling was a general occupation throughout Kelowna district this morning after residents found that two inches of snow had been dumped overnight. Here David, Tommy and Bruce Angus clear a sidewalk, interrupted by the antics of their dog Laddie. This first heavy fall of the season gave people one fearless forecast for 1960—that there would be a white New Year's. (Courier staff photo)

U.S. to Renew Pressure For Libby Development

WASHINGTON (CP) — The United States is planning fresh efforts to persuade Canada to back construction of the proposed $325,000,000 Libby Dam project to build a huge border reservoir between Montana and British Columbia.

Qualified U.S. authorities suggest progress on joint development of the Columbia River would be better assured if certain Canadian opposition to Libby was removed. Some Canadian power experts are reported opposed to Libby on the grounds it would prevent a more flexible development of the Kootenay River in British Columbia's southeast corner. U.S. officials said certain sections of the proposed set of principles for joint development of the Columbia-made public Wednesday were created with the idea that Canada might yet agree to Libby construction.

1959 Economic Target Beaten, Red China Says

ward" in 1960 based on modernizing agriculture under strict Communist party control.

MP To Introduce Pollution Bill

OTTAWA (CP) — H. W. Herdridge, CCF member of the Commons for Kootenay West, will propose at the next session of Parliament a bill aimed at prohibiting the discharge of water-polluting industrial wastes into interprovincial rivers.

Le, chairman of the state planning commission, gave few figures of 1959 achievements and none of next year's targets. In 1958 successes in industry and agriculture were proudly hailed with a series of statistics which later proved erroneous.

DRIVE PLANNED

Observers here said Chinese Communist leaders recently indicated they planned to begin a drive in 1960 to mechanize agriculture, where hand-operated and animal-drawn tools and implements still predominate. Their aim is to put agriculture on a modern technical basis in about 10 years, boosting farm output and freeing "hundreds of millions" of farm workers for transfer to industry.

DECADE OF TECHNICAL TRIUMPHS WANING

World Greet's 60's Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1950s, time of technical triumphs, draw to a close tonight, and the world embarks on a new decade, on the edge of a strange, new frontier. At midnight, men and women around the world will greet the dawn of the 60's.

And as the era shifts, mankind begins a different kind of struggle to reach the stars—no longer in spirit alone, but by physical prowess. This is the challenging, still unfamiliar horizon of the new decade, born of a period of unprecedented mechanical advances of rockets, satellites, automation and of computers that out-traced the human mind.

AGE-OLD PROBLEMS But age-old problems, of peace and decency, still remain, and history when towering material achievements created new dilemmas of the past, and responses of the future.

King Savang Vatthana twice rejected Phoum's resignation, then sent him a sharply worded letter accepting it. "It is apparent that in face of the powerlessness of the government to control an explosive situation, it is not morally possible for us to leave the nation in uncertainty of the future," the king told his reluctant premier.

An official at the premier's office said "the security of the country has been immediately placed under control of the army and a new cabinet is formed."

All official added with a smile: "I sense don't dramatize the situation. It's a coup d'etat Laotian style, and not on the South Amer-

Top Experts To Scrutinize Power Report

VICTORIA (CP) — The world's best technical experts will be brought in to study the feasibility report on the engineering and economic prospects of hydro-electric development on the Peace River, British Columbia water controller Arthur F. Paget said Wednesday night.

"They will be people who have no axe to grind in B.C. and their professional reputations will be staked on their decisions," he said in an interview.

Earlier Wednesday, president W. C. Mainwaring of Peace River Power Development Company delivered to Mr. Paget four copies of the nine-volume report prepared by his company after $5,000,000 worth of studies in the Rocky Mountain Trench area.

Mr. Mainwaring said the report is secret and all other copies have been locked in a vault until the water controller has completed his study and made his recommendations.

The report details plans for a $600,000,000 development to produce 4,000,000 horsepower of electricity on the Peace River.

Mr. Paget said the report deals only with hydro development and has nothing to do with a proposed railway or uranium enrichment plant in the Peace River country.

Mr. Paget has until March 31 to make a report on the development plan.

"I am going into deep thought for about three months," he said. He added that his own department experts and others who will be brought in will study the plan. One consultant, D. J. Bluff, already is working on the Peace studies with the water rights branch.

"We are going to produce a basically very sound report," said Mr. Paget. "There will be no public hearings during these studies."

The Peace River company report is not an application for a water licence as some people believe, he added. It is a proposal for development and under terms of an earlier agreement with the B.C. government, the water controller will decide on its feasibility.

Mr. Paget said he will make a report to the government. "That report might be construed as approval or disapproval."

SUCCESSFUL HUNTERS WORKED HARD

Firing Line Was L-o-n-g On Wells Gray Scene

By DAVE STEWART (Daily Courier Special Correspondent)

WELLS GRAY PARK, B.C. — It looks now as though the long-awaited snow storm has begun.

However, a good portion of the hundred or so cars, station wagons and light deliveries that congregated here on Boxing Day and Sunday have headed for home. Most of these are carrying just a little less load than when they arrived. The ones loaded are hunters who went "way back" for their meat, and blooming well earned it.

This is the park's heaviest season, hunter-wise. As one way remarked Saturday night, it was "high time Gargard installed a traffic light at the checking station turnoff." Cars and trucks arrived and left, happy meat-eating hunters checked their jawbones (moose jawbones, that is) and unhappy meatless hunters checked out cursing "the most overrated hunting in B.C."

By Saturday night, all the campsites up by the Murtle River were full, and all the guiding establishments down the valley were bedding down.

CHAIN OF NIMRODS

Sunday dawned fairly quietly, except for a few shots over near the Pyramids. Two volcanic cones which form both an unmissable landmark and an obnoxious park this season, works out to a vantage point for hunters. Silence prevailed until 9 o'clock, ratio. However, a glance at the then several volleys marked the overall figures is revealing. I then spent a couple of hours with mals had to run the gauntlet—a Charlie Shook and his soft-spoken assistant patrolman Bob Miller, along a straggling line two miles in length. Aside from a couple of Murtle Lake, and came up with strays wandering in later in the day, this was about the only activity in the vicinity of the Pyramids.

Further east, up the Murtle River, shots rang out at intervals all day. Here, on the open ridge above the river, at least five moose were taken Sunday, and a couple more on Monday. Several of these hunters arranged with the local guides to pack or skid their moose out with horses.

DRIVES PAY OFF

Best hunting was obtained by drives, the most successful of which was organized by park personnel. With snow conditions less favorable to the extent that stalking was impossible, these drives were about the best method.

Hardworking, genial supervisor Charlie Shook told me that 200 animals would be a normal crop for this year. Of this number, to date only 170 animals have

SUGGEST SPECIAL SCREEN

HAMILTON, Ont. (CP) — A corner's jury has recommended installation of special screen windows in hotel rooms rented to people with children. The jury asked as accidental the death of five-year-old Stanley Jurasek of London, Ont., who died after falling 99 feet from a window of the Royal Connaught Hotel on Dec. 12.

PERSISTENT FOOL

The day before, one of the "guides" was snowed out along the Pyramid trail when someone shot at him through the brush. When the third shot came close enough that he realized he was the target, he threw himself down behind a log. As the "sound" got expert approached, the guide got up and called out—at which point the other man shot at him again. A shot in the air from the guide's rifle finally brought the hunter to his senses.

As Shook says: "Neither of these characters is welcome here. We just hope they have sense enough to stay away next year!"

STRONG OKANAGAN CONTINGENT

While checking figures, I came up with something of interest to Daily Courier readers. As of Monday night, more than half of the hunters checked in at the station were from the Okanagan or Mainline points. They included 15 from Kelowna, nine from Vernon, five from Armstrong and six from Winfield and Rutland as well as almost 20 from Salmon Arm and Mainline points. In addition, I noticed several Okanagan licence plates on cars parked at various guiding establishments down the valley and at the Wells Gray hotel.

Into The New Year

A new year is something to be faced with hope, courage and reasonable enthusiasm. Life would have little meaning if each day were not also something of an adventure in itself. Three hundred and sixty-six (it's Leap Year) fresh days may bring storms and calms, fair winds or foul, but on the whole the new year is not likely to be widely different from 1959 so far as most Canadians are concerned. This nation has its own tasks to perform, its distant goals to reach and a due measure of help to offer to other nations in goodwill. As for Canada, so with the individual this can be a year of accomplishment, if one will have it so.

It will be a year to be lived in a larger Canada with larger problems, some of them the result of economic changes in the world. But Canadians have usually found solutions for their own problems, and there is little reason to suppose that this will be any different now. Beyond what governments and the public purse must achieve, there is the wide field in which individual citizens will be expected to be alert and active first in their own interest and then in that of the nation. It may be a sobering thought, but the year 1960 has all of the appearances of a period in which "medicine and duty" will be the remedy for most public ills, and many private ones as well.

It will be a gain for all if it is realized that initiative and self-help are the time-honored means by which this nation has overcome its difficulties in the past. On the credit side to balance the problems, there is much for which to be thankful. In population and in character this is a steady nation. It is conscious of its freedom, and aims to keep it. It is not chilled by threats from any quarter, and has no need to be. Canadians know that there is a job of work to be done at home, and the need for continued prudence and watchfulness in external relations. Yet, with it all, 1960 can be, and should be, for this vigorous young land, a year of opportunity and progress.

Under Providence, may it prove so.

Overseas Investors Show Interest In New Zealand

By J.C. GRAHAM

Canadian Press Correspondent
AUCKLAND (CP) — Overseas investors are showing keen interest in New Zealand following a widely-read comment that New Zealand is "the one place left where there is a ground floor to get in on."

An article in the Investors Chronicle, London, said that each of the Dominions had been favored since the war except New Zealand. It made a critical survey of New Zealand prospects and concluded that there were still better opportunities there than in most countries.

MANY INQUIRIES

The article has produced a spate of inquiries from brokers and some substantial buying orders have been placed.

Stock exchange prices rose steeply in New Zealand in 1959 but they were still nothing like the heights reached in the United States, Britain or even Australia. The rise began much later as the result of heavy new taxation on dividends imposed in 1958 and only in the later months of 1959 did prices really begin to shoot upward.

The share prices index when stock exchanges closed for the Christmas vacation stood at 157, existing output—with still further expansion in view. Already New Zealand has become an important basis of 1959 prices averaging 100.

The traditional products on which New Zealand relies for prosperity are currently enjoying a favorable trade. Dairy produce is selling at bumper prices on the London market, wool has risen to a year ago and even meat, which has been weakest, now is showing an upward price trend.

These are pastoral industries which have hitherto dominated the New Zealand economy. But, on the verge of a vigorous expansion in manufacturing.

Newspaper and paper have led the way in the new trend. All paper companies are increasing their capacity—some to double

Bushnell Influence Great In Radio

By DON HANBRIGHT

Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA (CP) — Ernest L. Bushnell, the CBC Thursday, His departure ends an era in Canadian broadcasting.

To the degree that such kudos can go to any one man, the forthright, volatile Bush is recognized as the greatest single force in shaping Canadian program policies as they stand today, especially in radio.

Longtime associates say there is no doubt his resignation as CBC vice-president weakens the national radio and television system. With him goes a good deal of the CBC's show business savvy and a wealth of broadcasting experience.

Mr. Bushnell, 59, leaves a $10,000-a-year job to set up his own Ottawa-based firm of broadcast consultants. As a counselor in all aspects of television and radio, he will continue to be heard and respected in the industry. Behind him is a lifetime as a showman and 28 years of trying, mostly as the No. 1 CBC man on programming, to satisfy the critical consumers of what has grown to be a $90,000,000 product turned out by a publicly-owned corporation.

In the process he has become something of a legend in the industry—a temperamental four-by-four type, soft spoken but always explosive, and known as much for his honest and fair tactics as for his quick and final decisions that were often painful to many.

Many people can tell a lot of stories about this former Ontario farm boy. Most of the stories are friendly.

They are of his early days as a travelling quartet tenor, as the radio comedian who set up Canada's first advertising agency, and—paradoxically, now—as the private station manager who so stoutly opposed nationalized broadcasting that he once vowed, "I wouldn't join the CBC for all the tea in China."

At the time, his employer had to threaten him with dismissal to get Mr. Bushnell to heed the call from the newly-created CBC. But he went on to a career as a decisive, though somewhat unpredictable, sort of sergeant-major to the creative talent in the corporation.

It is said that during these years Mr. Bushnell often would leave the artists and intellectuals to argue the various aspects of a program idea while Ernest Bushnell, cussing the delay, would go back to his office and make an arbitrary decision himself. In this described him as a perfect vice-president.

"Whatever small success I've had in this business, is due, I think, to the fact that my mind has always travelled along entertainment channels," he told a reporter recently.

"I know what it is to have to please an audience, and I've been fortunate in being surrounded by people who are brainier than I am."

Lancashire Cotton Industry Makes Amazing Recovery

LONDON — One of the worst was going through a bad period, observers declare that the rush dates stretching into the second half of next year.

The Cotton Board has reported production during the month of October of 166 million yards of cotton cloth. That was 10 million yards more than in October of last year. The output of yarn is up by four million pounds over the 1958 figure and stands at 65 million pounds. And James Whitehead, managing director of the Lancashire Cotton Corporation, predicts that the figures for November will be even better than the October record.

Looking for reasons for this recovery in activity in the cotton industry which not so long ago

Credit is also given to Britain's long, hot summer of 1959 for causing this revival of the cotton industry. Shops all over the country were quickly cleaned out of all cotton dresses as women hurried to "get into something cool."

Much of the present rush or upsurge is for supplies to fill up the depleted stock in the shops.

An on-the-spot survey in the cotton mill towns has revealed that Lancashire firms in the industry are carrying the fattest order books they have known for many years. Many of the mills have full staffs at work and in some cases there are like lighted length of rope. The why it seems but a mere wisp of time since it was 1950 or even 1940. But then you think of all the things that happen in ten the years or twenty years, and the interval stretches and expands and becomes a long time.

We look backwards because it is easier. People say "Ten years ago," but seldom "Ten years from now." Even the very sound of a new date seems strange on our tongues. When it is 1959 it is difficult to envisage 1960. New Year's Day explodes upon us and before we know it we have accepted another date in the long march of the centuries. And 1961 has such an alien sound and seems such a long way away.

The human race has endured much in 1959, but man seems to have an awesome capacity for picking himself up off the ground and living. Flood, famine and fire, war and pestilence have struck at him for the last 1959 years and for all the thousands of years before that that encompass his recorded history.

And terrible things may happen in 1960. Some of them may be forced upon us by the elements, and others we will force upon one another.

But good things will happen, too.

A child will sing in 1960. A piece of wonderful music will be played. And a writer, perhaps a writer as yet unknown, will arrange the words of the English language into a pattern that has great power and beauty.

The snow will lay across the land, touching the hills and the trees but the winter of 1960 will weaken and spring will sigh softly toward us. The lilacs will drench the air in 1960. The tiny blades of grass will push through the earth and assume a sheen.

Two people will fall in love in 1960, completely and irrevocably, and beyond question.

Somebody will grow tired of hate and turn away from malice toward the face of charity. Dishes will grow beside a country road and some child and its mother will venture into a field to pick them.

And in the summer, the air will become soft and heavy and sounds will be muted. Roses will bloom in a garden in 1960. A plow will turn a furrow of rich earth and there will be the smell of the good earth. The fruit trees will bloom and bring forth a luscious harvest.

Lightning will hurtle across the sky in 1960 and water will smash against rock in the ecstasy of a storm. Somebody will walk along a path and feel rain against his face.

In the city a hundred evenings will blink. The lights of the city will blink on, amber and gold and red and green and blue and yellow. The street lights will look

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

CLAIMS MISUNDERSTANDING
The Editor,
Kelowna Daily Courier.

Dear Sir:—
The recent return of the Venerable D. S. Catchpole from journalistic retirement was noted with interest and anticipation. His column in the December 23rd issue of The Courier, while again provocative, unfortunately involved an obvious misunderstanding of the nature and purposes of Kelowna Boys Club.

1. Seven times in this article the Rev. Catchpole referred to "Boys Club rooms at 348 Lawrence Town" another organization with which Kelowna Boys Club has no connection whatsoever as has been pointed out by us many times.

2. Age qualifications of the "fairly young boys" in Kelowna Boys Club are from 8 to 18 years—a most comprehensive grouping.

3. Kelowna Boys Club was not intended for boys of "parents who prove incapable of training their children." Its purpose is to provide, under proper supervision, recreational and creative activities for all boys in Kelowna and District from Monday to Saturday and thereby to fill in time not otherwise taken up by school, church, or other club interests.

4. The originators of Kelowna Boys Club do not seek credit for themselves either for the work they do for the Club or for the support given to the Club by the Kelowna community. All members of the Board of Directors and all instructors of classes give their time and talents without expectation of any remuneration other than the continuing satisfaction of seeing 100 or more boys at a time engaged in wholesome fun.

In only two months of operation Kelowna Boys Club has grown in membership from nothing before October 20th to more than 200 fully registered boys today. We have no racial or religious distinctions.

Deliberately, membership fees for boys are kept so low that any boy can join Kelowna Boys Club. In some activities such as copper work and leathercraft, boys are asked to contribute to the cost of materials if possible. Because of our broad basis of service to Kelowna and district, we felt we should apply to become an agency of Community Chest and add our support to its annual fund-raising campaign. We are the only Boys Club in British Columbia which does not belong to Community Chest and consequently we must make our own appeal in order to carry on our work.

If the Venerable Catchpole or anyone else doubts the value of Kelowna Boys Club to our community, we ask that he visit the Club rooms at 348 Lawrence Avenue any evening or ask the opinions of any of approximately 175 Kelowna families whose boys presently benefit from the activities of the Club.

ALAN S. BURBANK,
President,
Kelowna Boys Club.

"Most satisfactory," was the comment of Sgt. R.B. McKay, NCO in charge of B.C. Provincial Police here, as he reviewed the long Christmas weekend. For the first time in years there were no arrests over the holiday and the lock-up was completely empty.

Watch Night services will be held tonight by at least two religious bodies, Evangel Tabernacle and Peoples' Mission. With New Year's Day falling on a Sunday, attendance at various churches is expected to be heavy.

Lebanon Makes Strong Bid For Tourist Money

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A new $1,000,000 casino is part of a Lebanese effort to make this little Arab country an international playground.

The country is well endowed with natural attractions. Picturesque mountains rise from the blue Mediterranean. Lebanon has the best night clubs in the middle East. And any time of the year is favorable for gambling places.

The Casino du Liban, one of the world's largest, shows the optimism Lebanese have in their country's economy. Barely 15 months ago this country was in a violent civil war; business was brought to a standstill for five months. Today all that is forgotten, and Lebanon is riding on a wave of prosperity.

Lebanese businessmen, who built the casino are spending lavishly. Jean Bouchelet of Paris trained a special ballet for three months in the Moulin Rouge before bringing the girls to Lebanon.

The 16-man Orchestra du Silva, well known in Cannes and Monte Carlo, is booked to play while guests dance. Special dishes are prepared by Raymond Roulet, one of the finest chefs in France.

There are two main buildings, one housing four restaurants, the gambling rooms and two music halls, and a 1,200-seat theatre. Between and around them is a network of courtyards and gardens where fountains illuminated by colored lights shoot 20 feet into the air.

Around one of these gardens, enterprising Lebanese have opened shops selling perfume, furs and jewelry. A Lebanese bank is opening a branch of the casino premises "for convenience in depositing your winnings."

LAST YEAR'S CHAMP

Industrial Jobs Down In October

OTTAWA (CP)—Industrial employment in Canada declined seasonally in October, the Bureau of Statistics said today.

The composite index of industrial employment—based on 1949 equalling 100—eased to 124.4, a drop of one per cent from the September figure of 125.6. The index in October, 1958, was 120.1.

Average weekly wages and salaries rose to $74.67 in the month from $74.50 in September, and $71.13 in October of last year.

Employment in trades in October showed the usual annual gain over September and there was a rise in employment in forestry as winter woods operations started. Employment declined in all other industry divisions, mainly due to seasonal influences.

Age Limit Set For Training Subsidies

OTTAWA (CP)—The transport department has announced that effective March 31, 1960, flying training subsidies will be paid only to licensed student pilots 33 years of age or younger.

The new regulations will not affect student pilots over the age limit now taking training for such licenses.

Grants of $100 are now paid to all students who obtain pilot licenses. The subsidy is to help build up a supply of pilots for commercial aviation.

The department said the age limit is being put into effect because older private pilots have little potential as future commercial pilots.

First Lady Faces Talk With Humor, Warmth And Dignity

Written for The Canadian Press By CAROLYN WILLET

OTTAWA (CP)—A family feeling pervades stately Government House where the bride of a one-time aide-de-camp has returned as Canada's first lady—the wife of the governor-general.

Mme. George Vanier, the former Pauline Archer, is the first chataleine at Government House in more than seven years. Former Governor-General Vincent Massey was a widower.

Mme. Vanier has said she returned to Government House this fall with a feeling of being at home, although 38 years intervened since she came to Ottawa as the bride of George Vanier, one of the first two Canadian-born aides appointed to a once traditionally British viceregal household.

Mme. Vanier has said her one-year stay at Rideau Cottage, a large family house on Government House grounds, gave her an idea of how the viceregal residence is organized, down to such details as which study the Queen's representative uses and which sitting room is set aside for his wife.

It is known that the tall, distinguished soldier-diplomat and ment House by Mr. Massey. With his gracious, silver-haired wife Zonda she shares not only a common regard their post as part of the duty to their country. It is French cuisine to help in decision-making, too, that Gen. Vanier is quick to emphasize that he and his wife function as a team.

As a team, and as parents of four grown sons and a daughter, the sense of a family being at home — although none of the children is here — is felt throughout the large residence.

For the Vaniers, moving from the retirement which came at the end of a rich military and diplomatic career, also has meant moving personal possessions here from a Montreal apartment.

Books from an extensive library now fill Government House studies. Around the couple are family pictures, an extensive collection of paintings and some of the works of their artist-son, Bernard.

"ADOPTED SONS" — And to make up for the absence of family, Mme. Vanier has been heard to refer to the sense of a family being at home — although none of the children is here — is felt throughout the large residence.

University in Quebec City, and of welfare service at work. Georges, a Trappist monk at Oka, Que., are in Canada, as well as a multitude of duties at home — including keeping up with a large correspondence — Canada's first lady brings a gracious dignity and a warmth that reaches out in gatherings large or small.

This warmth, and a sparkling sense of humor, was illustrated early in the Vaniers' term of office when the couple entertained at a large press reception. Many newspaper men's wives were received without their husbands, who were detained working on an important government report issued to the press in a locked room.

For more than one wife, the trepidation of the reception line was quickly overcome by the Governor-General and his wife's warm greetings and Mme. Vanier's understanding as she asked: "Is your husband locked up, too?"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Pay Debts to God and Man Tells Seventh-Day Pastor

Editor's Note: A new feature to be seen on the church page of The Daily Courier every week will be a sermon or "sermonette" by the various churches in Kelowna and district.

The message this week is by Pastor C. S. Cooper, of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. The Daily Courier invites the clergy of the churches in the district to submit sermons for publication.

By PASTOR C. S. COOPER
Seventh-day Adventist Church

When I was a missionary in China, I found that the people there had a very worthwhile custom. Before New Year's Day, each person endeavored to settle all of his debts, even if doing so meant that he had to sell some possession at a loss. I think that this Chinese custom has a good lesson in it for us. As we begin the New Year let us take a look back into 1959. No doubt, we shall realize that we are greatly in debt both to God and to our fellowmen.

First of all, there are our debts to God. We surely owe Him a debt of gratitude for all the blessings, material and spiritual that the year has brought to us. These are debts we can never repay in kind, but we can express our thankfulness to God. Then there is the debt of service. Christ came to this world to live and die for you. What have you done for Him during this past year to repay this debt of service?

Secondly, there are our debts to our fellowmen. I am thinking primarily of all the service, kindness and favors that family, friends and business associates have rendered to us during the year. We could never fully settle these accounts in dollars even if we tried. But we can express sincere appreciation for what others have done for us and seek a good lesson in it for us. As to repaying these debts by our own hands, we can express our sincere appreciation for what others have done for us and seek a good lesson in it for us. As to repaying these debts by our own hands, we can express our sincere appreciation for what others have done for us and seek a good lesson in it for us.

will—may it be your resolution that during the year ahead you will be more faithful in seeking to repay your debts by being grateful and by being active in service to your church and to all about you.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE

A special Watch Night service will be held at the First United Church tonight, beginning at 11:40 and ending shortly after midnight. The first Sunday in the new year will begin with a Communion service at 11 a.m., and in the evening the guest speaker will be William Whitehead.

"By his courtesy, patience, tact and vision he has proven to be a philanthropic institution he had Governor General second to none done much to elevate the life of in the history of Canada," the Executive of the General Council of the United Church of Canada said, in a resolution of appreciation and respect sent to Canada's former Governor General, The Right Hon. Vincent Massey. The resolution said that Mr. Massey had furthered the national welfare of Canada and by his unfailing support of its cultural and philanthropic institutions he had done much to elevate the life of

O'Reilly Would Consider Kitchener Coaching Job

Kelowna Packers' coach Jack O'Reilly said today that if asked to coach any hockey club he would give serious consideration to coaching the Kitchener-Waterloo team in the winter Olympics at Squaw Valley.

"If the directors of the Kitchener team were to call me about the coaching job, I'd have no alternative but to consider it seriously," said O'Reilly in an interview here this morning.

"It wouldn't give a person much time for coaching but I think something can still be done for the team," said O'Reilly.

O'Reilly, 37, coached the Kelowna Packers in the Russian series in 1958 at which time they won five, lost two and tied two games. They played top Russian and Swedish teams during the tour.

O'Reilly has been coaching the Packers since 1956 and before that coached minor league hockey for seven years from which he also brought out a championship team.

He first came to Kelowna in 1949 at which time he played on the "Packer" defence for two years.

In 1948 O'Reilly played for the Vancouver Canucks who that year won the Pacific Coast League championship.

Since taking over the Kelowna team, O'Reilly has led them to the Savage Cup, the Western Canadian championship, the OS this morning that O'Reilly has the ability to coach any hockey club and "it would certainly like to see him get a chance at the Cup finals."

It was reported this morning that Grant Warwick, former job coach of the Penitence Vs. would consider the job if offered.

The Kitchener coaching job came open Tuesday with the resignation of Bill Durnan.

Meanwhile, Packer General Manager, Bob Giordano, said first class job.

Four Players To Be Named For Russian Game

VERNON — Four players for the Dynamo game will be named next week, Vernon Canadians playing coach George Agar announced this morning.

The foursome, chosen of the ranks of Kelowna, Kamloops and Penitence teams will augment Vernon's regular 11 players.

Agar said regulations permitted the Vernon team to dress 15 men for the International game.

Smokies Lace Warriors To Take Over 1st Place

TRAIL (CP) — Trail Smoke Eaters laced Rossland Warriors 5-3 Wednesday night to move into sole possession of first place in the Western International Hockey League.

Norman Lenardon was the big gun for the Smoke Eaters, scoring two goals. Ernie Secco, Gerry Penner and Laurie Bursaw notched Trail's other goals.

NHL'S BIG 7

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

The National Hockey League scoring race became a little easier Wednesday night.

Montreal Canadiens' Jean Beliveau scored his 21st goal to gain a third-place tie with Bronco Horvath of Boston at 41 points.

He had 16 goals, the only goalgetter in the second period.

James moved the Warriors on even terms once again when he stole a puck from Smoke Eater Ritchie Unger and cut in front of Martin, letting the puck into the upper portion of the net. Beliveau, standing alone in front of the net, jammed home a rebound to give the Smoke Eaters a lead they never relinquished. Lenardon added the insurance tally at 16:40 to give Trail its second straight WHL win.

Five penalties were called by referee Harry Harris, four of them to the winners. Trail outshot the visitors 29-27.

Canadiens Win CP Poll As Top Squad For 1959

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO (CP) — Montreal Canadiens nudged out Winnipeg Blue Bombers as Canada's outstanding team in 1959 and the Stanley Cup was the biggest sports thrill of the year with the Grey Cup final a close second.

"That is the consensus of the country's sports editor and broadcasters who participated in the 25th annual Canadian Press year-end sports poll announced today."

It was an almost complete turnabout from 1958 when the Bombers beat out Canadiens for team honors and provided the majority of voters with their greatest sports thrill as they beat Hamilton Tiger-Cats 35-28 in a pulsating Grey Cup final.

NARROW MARGIN

Voters were asked by CP to name the three outstanding Canadian teams, any sport, professional or amateur, in order, and Canadiens won by about the width of a skate. Computed on a basis of three points for a first-place choice, two for second and one for third, Canadiens counted 234 votes against 218 for Bombers, who made it two straight over Tiger-Cats with a 21-7 Grey Cup victory in November.

Belleville McFarlands, who won the world amateur hockey championship at Prague, Czechoslovakia, on the basis of a superior goal average over Russia, were third with 63 points. Toronto Maple Leafs, who put on a tremendous end-of-season surge to gain the last Stanley Cup playoff spot, were a distant fourth with 19 points.

It was strictly a two-team fight between Canadiens and Blue Bombers.

FOURTH STANLEY CUP

Couch Tom Blake's powerful Canadiens wrapped up the National Hockey League championship with ease and then won an unprecedented fourth straight Stanley Cup, four games to one over the surprising Maple Leafs, who squeezed into the playoffs on the last night of the regular season after a dismal early-season showing.

The Grey Cup was a bitterly fought but unimpressive contest. Coach Bud Grant's Bombers were the betting favorites, the first time a western team had been favored since the East-West play-off started in 1921, and they wrapped up the title with an 18-point final — quarter drive that won them a 7-3 defeat.

Seventeen other teams were nominated for the outstanding team, but only four were included in the list.

TOP THRILLS

It was Canadiens 28-16 in the thriller voting over the Bombers. Other votes went to Stan Leonard, 45-year-old Vancouver golfer who won individual honors in the Canada Cup matches at Melbourne, Australia; Belleville's McFarlands, Allan Cup champions; New Westminster O'Keefe's, senior lacrosse titleholders and world figure skating champion team of Toronto's Barbara Wagner and Bob Paul.

OTHER ACTIVITIES TOO

Wrestling Not Enough For Big Doug Hepburn

VANCOUVER (CP) — One day he turned to professional wrestling. After he quit in 1956 saying "I just haven't the temperament for it. I've had my nose smashed, my leg hurt and the boys have been just beginning to turn it on. I'd sooner make $100 a week wrestling than be a professional wrestler for the rest of my life."

He had been a pro wrestler for a year, earned $25,000 and netted $15,000 and faced a future with promise of up to $100,000 a year if he continued.

"I'd sooner make $100 a week wrestling than be a professional wrestler for the rest of my life," he said.

So why did the 33-year-old strong man return to wrestling recently?

"No reason but money," he told another reporter. "I owe the income tax people $1,629 and they'll be coming for me if I don't get the dough up."

TOP WEIGHTLIFTER

Hepburn, who now weighs 230 pounds, made newspaper headlines in 1953 when he won the world championship, lifting 1,030 pounds in three lifts at Stockholm to take the title over top Russian and United States competitors.

The following year, with just one lift to his name and $150 to keep him for several weeks of training, he worked his way to the British Empire Games and if I set back on the beam, weightlifting title. Early in 1955 I'll travel around some.

NOW BREEDS DOGS

With his return to wrestling, he has broadened his activities to at least three fields—he raises dogs and does some writing, too.

He is raising English mastiffs and huskies on a farm south of nearby Whalley.

"I got to keep working so they can keep eating," he said.

His writing is confined to "articles for little magazines and the course I'm doing on weightlifting."

Hepburn, who sings tenor and writes wistful poems for recreation, says he'll likely stay with wrestling for some time.

"I've been away from wrestling for three or four years," he said to keep him for several weeks of training, he worked his way to the British Empire Games and if I set back on the beam, weightlifting title. Early in 1955 I'll travel around some."

Plante Starts New Issue With Use Of "Pep Pills"

By RON ANDREWS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Every time goaltender Jacques Plante of Montreal Canadiens adds a new twist to his National Hockey League career he stirs up a storm. Nevertheless, Canadiens kept on winning.

Plante's latest addition to his repertoire of gimmicks was the use of "pep pills."

He had taken one before 11:28 of the first period while each of Canadiens' two weekend Leafs were a man short but Plante was prepared to take for not one but two back at 1:05 of another Wednesday night. He decided at the last minute, how a man in the penalty box, to go without a pill and then turned in a sensational effort as Canadiens defeated Toronto 3-2 in the night's Richard Goals. Richard's second goal at 11:00 of the third period, which he knitted himself. Earlier, club officials indicated they weren't too happy about the pills, especially if they contained a narcotic.

ANOTHER BIG CROWD

Puller's second goal, through a scramble of players, set the Canadiens crowd of 14,667 to a roar. Jean Beliveau added the other, watched Leaf beat Canadiens 3-0 in the first period, before Leafs had another shot at the last goal of the night.

Plante, called up to Canadiens in 1952-53, used to wear a time-worn mask which he knitted himself. The late Dick Irvin, coach of Canada, told Plante he couldn't use it.

The next season, the native of Shawinigan Falls, Que., drew the wear I was so sure I wouldn't get hurt. I was too relaxed. He said for out of his net to clear loose. But the style of play seldom allowed a goal and now other goalkeepers were copying it.

Goyer, Bionda Tangle Horns As Cougars Edge Totems 5-3

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Fortunes for the seven Western Hockey League clubs in the new year are hard to predict, but the old year certainly went out with a bang.

Attendance and competition both took a shot in the arm as the holiday schedule began, and apart from the runaway Vancouver Canucks—sitting comfortably in first place—there isn't a team in the top five which isn't looking over its shoulder.

The clubs reacted to the spectacular support with some fired-up hockey which spilled over into more than one ice-littered battle.

The latest brawl occurred Wednesday night as Victoria Cougars edged Seattle Totems 5-3 and the players tangled in a melee that lasted more than 20 minutes.

Some 2,700 Victoria fans—arguing madweek crowd of the season—watched the donnybrook, which ended with 11 players cooling off in the penalty box.

FLYERS EDGE WINNIPEG

Edmonton's, who Tuesday won by a similar length, scrap with Spokane's Cougars, played before 4,500 Winnipeg fans in another Wednesday game and edged Warriors 3-2.

In the third game Spokane, who lost key defenseman Fred Greigh to a indefinite suspension as a result of Tuesday's battle, lost 4-3 to Calgary as Stampede's came up with a powerful third-period surge.

The results left only eight points separating second-place Seattle and fifth place Calgary. Victoria, third and Edmonton, fourth, Winnipeg holds down sixth place and Calgary is last.

The league is idle tonight. Spokane is at Seattle, Victoria at Vancouver and Winnipeg in Edmonton on Friday.

But Jones was Victoria's pace-maker with two goals, while Arnie Schmitz, Gordie Howarth and Jim Hay scored the others. Totems came back with markers by Pat Ginnell, Bill Davidson and Tom McVie.

The first-period fight broke out when Gerry Goyer cross-checked Victoria's Jack Bionda. Players from both clubs became involved in the ensuing tangle. There were no injuries. Chief penalty-receivers were Bionda with a major and minor and Goyer with two minors.

FRANCIS AIRTIGHT

In Calgary Spokane was ahead 3-1 going into the third period, mainly on the two-goal performance of Chung Johnson and brilliant netmanning by Emile Francis. The Comet goaltender wearing a face mask as a result of a 1954, for work in the Holy Land.

Penticton Downs Powell River 6-2 In PeeWee Series

CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP) — Penticton defeated Powell River 6-2 Wednesday in the A division final of Chilliwack's first annual pee-wee hockey jamboree.

More than 400 fans turned out for the final, in which the Okanagan club displayed superior passing and skating against the Powell River crew.

In the B division final, Vancouver Capitals crushed Burnaby 7-0, while Nanaimo edged New Westminster 2-1 in the C division final.

A total of 15 teams from various parts of the province took part in the day-long tournament.

Brian Longpre of Vancouver won the individual scoring award with five goals. Butt Kern of Nanaimo was named the best goalie and Penticton's nine-year-old Ed Hayes was chosen the most valuable player.

Minor Hockey Cancelled

All minor hockey action scheduled for Saturday in Memorial Arena has been cancelled, a league official said this morning.

Smythe's Old Publicity Stunts Relived By Present Officials

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

If you want to get some mileage out of gimmicks in hockey, check back on the extramural activities of Conn Smythe, possibly the greatest showman of the game. He can teach the young fellows a lot.

Smythe, president of Maple Leaf Gardens in Toronto and explosive manager of the National Hockey League Leafs for more than a quarter of a century, has had reason to recall a couple of food memories in the last two months when present-day officials relived some of his old stunts.

Body Builders, the extrovert coach of Chicago Black Hawks in the NHL, arrived in Toronto for a game in October and threatened to put certain Hawk players on a diet because they were getting fat on the "gentle, humane treatment I've been giving them."

BRODA BATTLED BULGE

Ten years ago, Smythe got tremendous publicity mileage when he ordered goalkeeper Turk Broda of the Leafs to lose off seven pounds in three days or lose his job. Broda's battle made headlines for days.

Another old Smythe theme cropped up a couple of weeks ago when his son, Staff, manager of the Toronto junior Marlboros, decked out his players in white tie and tails. Marlboros received a regal reception at Guelph for their Ontario Hockey Association game against the Biltmores.

The parade of pomp was way off the top of Guelph Coach Eddie Bush who had charged that most teams arrived for games looking like "wind-battered, broken-down old cars." Smythe as "the big wind from Mariboros" received a resounding reception at the rink as the Leafs manager. He was fined $1,000 for the stunt.

Coach Turk Broda received the keys to the city. The stunt attracted a crowd of 5,000, the first sellout in several years at the Guelph Arena. And Guelph won the game 6-3.

SMYTHE-ROSS FEUD

Smythe had been feuding with Art Ross of Boston Bruins for years. The Bruins were going particularly badly at one period in the schedule and Smythe inserted a signed four-column advertisement in a Boston newspaper addressed to the fans:

"If you're tired of what you've been looking at, come out tonight and see a decent team, the Toronto Maple Leafs, play hockey."

Hot Election In Store For Quebec Next Year

QUEBEC (CP)—Politicians in effort to regain the popularity Quebec will start beating the election drums in the new year. back in the '20s and early '30s. A frequent guess for the date of the 1960 provincial general election: June 15.

The coming campaign promises to be one of the most rousing in many years with two political leaders vying for the support of some 2,800,000 voters. The last election was in 1956.

For both men the campaign will be their first as party leaders, making the election one of the most important and significant in years since Quebec traditionally sticks to the man of its choice for many terms.

NEW PREMIER

Premier Sauve, who succeeded the late Maurice Duplessis on Sept. 11 will lead his Union Nationale party in its seventh campaign. The party has been successful in five out of six starts so far. It was founded in 1936. Liberal leader Jean Lesage, northern affairs minister in the former St. Laurent federal cabinet and Quebec party chief since 1958, will lead his forces in an

His death Sept. 7 resulting from a brain hemorrhage while visiting Northern Quebec's iron-mining town of Schefferville, still fresh in the memory of all voters.

Still going strong and obviously the major point of discussion for years to come in Quebec is the matter of federal-provincial relations and provincial rights.

Liberals are preparing a campaign in which they will imply that the Conservatives in Ottawa are winning over the Union Nationale party to form a powerful alliance in the provincial and federal fields. They're likely to talk of a Sauve-Diefenbaker team and imply Quebec's rights are secretly threatened.

The Union Nationale is standing pat on a provincial rights record which they say is perfect.

On this point the Quebec government has committed itself to the view that while no constitutional blocks stand in the way, the federal government no action can be taken until a report on the operation of a provincial plan is made by a factwhich the Union Nationale has found committee to be set up considered its key provincial early in 1960.

PUBLICITY STUNT REVIVED

Taking advantage of a remark made by Guelph Biltmore coach Eddie Bush that Toronto Marlboros were the worst dressed hockey team on the road, the "Dukes of Marlborough" decked out in evening clothes arrived in Guelph for the best publicity stunt in junior hockey for some time. The game drew a capacity crowd of 3,068 and over 500 fans waited at the arena entrance to welcome the Dukes. Marlboros received a gold key to the city and a bouquet of flowers. All the fancy dress didn't help Marlboros though as Guelph swamped them 7-2. It was the revival of one of Conn Smythe's old-day stunts.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

Emotional tensions, of which things done now. Promises and you may have been conscious for offers of help from others are the past few days, should dis-likely to be dependable. Also, appear gradually now if you will make no rash promises yourself, take time for quiet, meditative and take on no obligations which contemplation. This does not mean that you should spend the day in complete idleness, how on your budget. The evening hours will be favorable for romantic and domestic matters; also for family confidences.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, the year ahead promises to be a most satisfactory and rewarding one. Long-pending business affairs should begin to show results by July, and by the end of the year, you should find yourself close to achieving many of your most worthwhile goals.

While romance is also under favorable aspects this year, do not count too heavily on your emotions — especially between June and September. WIT may look like the "real thing" may later turn out to be disappointing, so be on guard. Lasting romance is possible during that period, but the important thing will be to use your head as well as your heart.

Death Claimed Many Hollywood Stars

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—This was a year of tragedy for Hollywood. Never have there been so many deaths of personalities in a single year.

You can expect each year the passing of those who have reached the end of long careers, as with Ethel Barrymore, Cecil B. DeMille, Victor McLaglen and Edmund Gwenn in 1959.

But the year also brought the deaths of many figures who were still in the midst of productive lives.

Some of 1959's losses: Errol Flynn, Mario Lanza, Lou Costello, Wayne Morris, Kay Kendall, Adrian, Charles Vidor, William Bishop, Preston Sturges, Paul Douglas. They died of natural causes. In addition, Carl (Alfalfa) Switzer was killed in an argument, and George Reeves shot himself.

TOP STORIES

It was a tragic year and an eventful one. Here is how the top 10 Hollywood news stories looked from this reviewing stand:

1. Khrushchev's visit to Hollywood was drama of the highest kind, and the Russian leader played it to the hilt.

2. Debbie Reynolds divorced Eddie Fisher, severing one side of the triangle of the decade.

3. Fisher married Elizabeth Taylor, after Debbie gave permission for Eddie to get a Ne-

4. Cecil B. DeMille died. Hetrowas the giant among film makers—the most successful of all time.

5. Ethel Barrymore's death closed a brilliant era of the theatre, over which she presided as undisputed queen.

6. Bing got a girl. A happy note was the birth of a daughter to Kathryn and Bing Crosby, his first after five sons. Other members of the Crosby family were in the year's news, not always as happily.

7. Hollywood shifted its moral views. Franker film content was a running story that evoked much controversy and threats of censorship.

8. Errol Flynn died in Vancouver. Hollywood's most famous actor.

ANOTHER GIRL MISSING

WATERTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—A second American girl is reported missing in the western Mediterranean area where police are seeking the identity of a girl's body found sewn in a sack. The remains are believed those of an American or British girl. The parents of 22-year-old Harriet Benton of Ogdensburg, N.Y., say they have not heard from her since receiving a post card from Gibraltar dated Oct. 8.

ART TREASURES

From 1915 to the end of the 1959 summer season, the famous Christie's auction rooms in London sold $22,240,000 worth of art.

World Behind Time Since Early 1900s, Russians Say

LONDON (Reuters)—The world earth around its axis, Kheimo has been running behind time since the beginning of the century, according to Russian astronomers.

A 31-second inaccuracy has built up since the early 1900s but could be photographically established, the staff of the time service in Moscow said.

The inaccuracy resulted from unevenness in the rotation of the were measured, and the astronomers established that 31 seconds should be added to world time.

Full Gov't Costs For Schools Opposed

DUNCAN (CP)—An official of the British Columbia Teachers Federation says that the federation is strongly opposed to the provincial government assuming the entire operating costs of schools.

Stan Evans, assistant secretary, said there should be some local authority retained to look after schools.

Alcoholic Beverages And How They Affect

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

Here's your New Year's Eve drinking guide.
Best drink with which to toast in the New Year and bid farewell to the old is a big glass of milk.

However, I'm a practical man. And I know I can count on the fingers of one hand the number of persons over the age of ten who plan to have a glass of milk in their hands at midnight.

FACTS AND FIGURES
So read and heed.
Probably the most potent mixed drink of all is the popular dry martini. It takes less time to create a greater effect than just about any other drink I can think of.

This is because a martini gets a considerable amount of alcohol into your bloodstream in a relatively short time.

ALCOHOLIC CONTENT
Ale is a little stronger, with a six per cent alcoholic content. Most fermented wines are about 12 per cent alcohol, although sherry and port usually while.

Opening lead—eight of hearts. Most of the time when you take a finesse, it is against some king, queen, or jack the defenders hold. Finesses against tens or nines are comparatively rare, and against lesser cards are almost non-existent.

But here is a case where declarer takes a finesse against a missing five, and while it requires very close attention by declarer to recognize the finessing position that ultimately arises, it is none the less real.

West led the eight of hearts. South could see there was a heart and a club loser. He could not afford both or he would go down in the slam.

The heart lead appeared to be top-of-nothing—probably a singleton or doubleton. So South covered the eight with the nine, and won the jack with the ace.

Then, after drawing two rounds of trumps, and to give himself the maximum chance to make the hand, he cashed the king and ace of diamonds. Declarer hoped the Q-J of diamonds might pos-

HEALTH COLUMN

UNDER THE INFLUENCE
Some persons, of course, can drink considerably more than others without showing any obvious effects. Medically speaking, however, we generally say a person is under the influence of alcohol when the alcoholic content of the blood is .15 per cent.

Alcohol gives you a feeling of well-being and elation because it dilates the blood vessels, thus sending a greater amount of blood throughout your body. Since your brain maintains an enormous circulation of blood, it also is affected.

SOME TIPS
Now, for a couple of tips for tonight:

FACULTIES DULLED
A few martinis tonight, and partying. Alcohol will have less your judgement will be impaired and your tongue will be loosened (figuratively speaking, of course).

Beer, on the other hand, takes a little longer to affect you. Most beers, you see, contain only about four per cent alcohol.

Space Scientists Use "Moon Garden"

VANCOUVER (CP)—More than one-quarter of all the students at the University of British Columbia get financial help from the university or the government, the university board of governors says.

The 1958-59 session alone saw 3,381 awards made of a total of $87,379, a press release says. Some students receive money from more than one source.

Money from the university comes mainly from four sources: special or named bursaries; fellowships; scholarships and prizes; awards from revolving loan funds, and government bursaries and loans.

Dean Walter Gage, chairman of the university's awards committee, said 764 students got a total of $115,025 from bursaries. The bulk—more than $75,000—was donated by individuals, service clubs and business firms.

MANY FELLOWSHIPS
Fellowships and other prizes went to 804 students and were worth $218,110, mainly for scholastic achievement. Some 1,200 students took out loans totalling $325,025 which they must repay. The provincial and federal governments contributed money that provided $209,220 in loans and bursaries to 591 students.

In addition, other students get financial help from community and other organizations independently of the university. With total assistance exceeding $900,000 however, Dean Gage said there is still not enough money available. Each of the 10,000 UBC students must raise about $1,200 a year to pay for expenses.

Collectively this amounts to more than $12,000,000 and we are able to provide only 1-12th of that total," he said.

U.S. Overhauls Way Of Gauging Industry Output
WASHINGTON (AP)—Industrial production in the United States has been increasing about 10 per cent faster than anyone realized, the federal reserve board has announced.

A major overhaul of the statistical machinery the board uses to chart industrial output revealed that the measurements used in the past were inadequate to show the actual size and growth of the U.S. economy.

Under the revised production index, output in November was 56 per cent higher than in the 1947-49 base period, the board reported. Before the revision, the November level was 48 per cent higher.

The revised measure reached a high of 166 per cent of the 1947-49 average in May and June, then dropped to 154 in October because of the steel strike before beginning a recovery.

Indians Turn To Road Building
WABASCA, Alta. (CP)—A proud and primitive band of Indians in Alberta's remote north has turned to road building this winter to avert acceptance of government relief.

The 500-member Wabasca reserve band eked out a meagre living through trapping, hunting, and fishing in the area 250-miles north of Edmonton.

This year the Indian affairs department is spending $5,000 on straightening 11 miles of the twisting Wabasca trail that meanders across the reservation.

In the below-zero winter weather crews are forging a 120-foot wide right-of-way through the bush. For 81 years they wrestle stumps from the concrete-like muskeg.

Relief payments in other winter have been $600 to $900 a family.

"The project won't cut all the winter's snow," says Larry Hunter of the Indian affairs department at Edmonton. "But it will certainly make a big hole in it."

Spirit Of Season Present In Christmas New Or Old

(Contributed)

This is the first Christmas I have spent in Canada, and during recent weeks I wondered with mounting apprehension how this holiday would compare with those we had spent in England.

Now, time has proved my fears groundless, for the kindness I have found typical of Canadians has insured that I should enjoy the true spirit of this season. Of course, there are differences, but I discovered once more, that one is not far from home in British Columbia, whatever the distance may be in miles.

It is also natural that one should think of food in connection with Christmas. It is a British tradition to have the Christmas dinner at luncheon on Christmas day. This entails an early rising, but in due course the festivities reach their peak, and the family, with close friends and relatives, settles down to the customary meal of roast turkey, sausages, sprouts, carrots, potatoes, stuffings, gravy, and bread sauce, (which seem to be replaced here by the equally tasty and much more colorful cranberry sauce). This is one meal when slimming diets are disregarded, for there's still Christmas pudding and rum sauce, mince pies, fruit and nuts to follow, accompanied by gay laughter and the wild banging of crackers.

Then comes the Queen's traditional speech at 3 o'clock which is clever timing on the part of the BBC for no one feels like doing anything but relaxing to look or listen after all this food!

Although I'd realized that we would not expect to hear these Christmas greetings I had not discovered that Canadians usually have the Christmas dinner in the evening and this certainly caught me out at I spent most of the day growing hungrier and hungrier for the turkey that never seemed to appear. But, needless to add, its final arrival made all the waiting worthwhile. I had been invited to spend the holiday with a Vancouver family, and their warm hospital-
